Project: HOPE Center Food Pantry — Fresh Food

Description: Food insecurity is one of the most prevalent issues in the Edmond and Arcadia communities. HOPE Center makes every effort to ensure that each family we serve has access to quality nutrition. We feel a responsibility to provide healthy, nutritious foods particularly fresh foods like milk, fruit, vegetables, and protein. Protein is one of the most important macronutrients supplied by food pantries. It helps people feel full longer; thus a household's food will last longer. Providing complete protein sources for at risk individuals ensures better developmental outcomes for children and overall improved health status. Clients of our food pantry receive a planned food package that includes beef, poultry, milk, eggs, cheese, fruit and vegetables. The requested funding would provide all of these for almost 10,000 people in the next nine months.
